

CASE STUDY – St George's Bloomsbury

Client:

The PCC of St George's

Architect:

St Blaise Ltd/Inskip & Jenkins

Quantity Surveyor:

Cain & Co

Structural Engineer:

Sinclair Johnson

Principal Contractor:

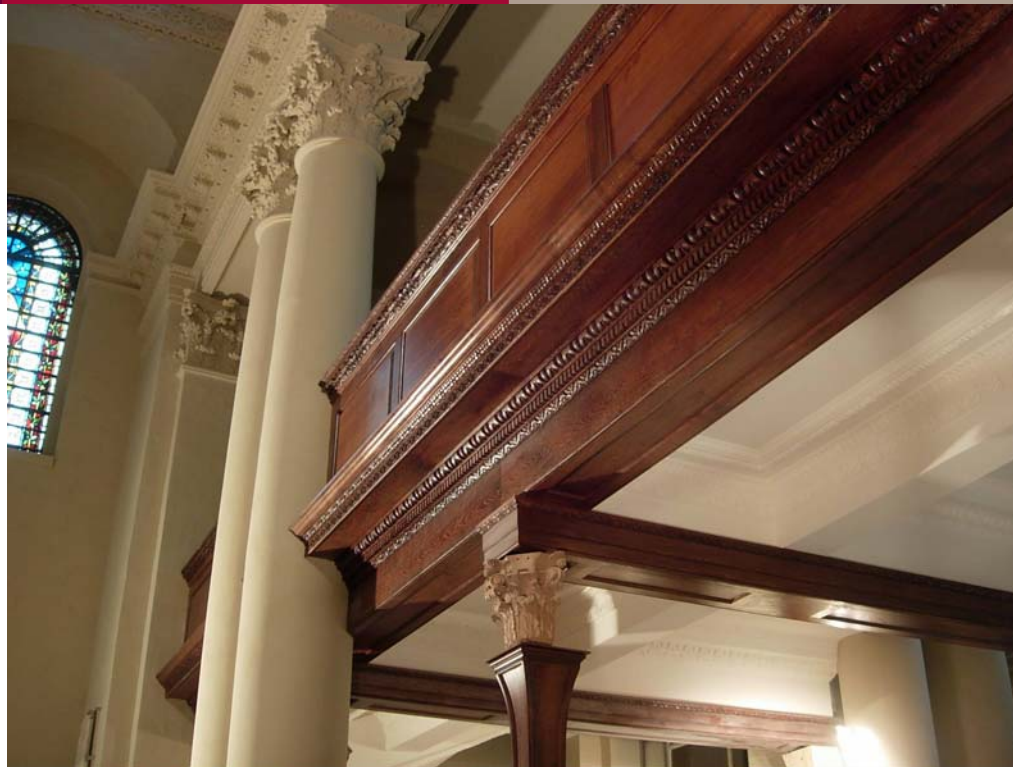

St Blaise Ltd

Conservation Specialists:

St Blaise Ltd

Value: £850k

Date: 2005

Description

The re-introduction of Hawksmoor's North Gallery. Our design input to the interpretation of the original intention was an essential ingredient to the construction in steel, lime plaster and joinery of the new gallery. Carved oak capitals adorn the completed structure.

The works involved:

- Structural steel supports
 - Timber sub frame
 - Oak paneling
 - Solid run lime plaster to the soffits
 - Two oak spiral staircase
 - Carved detailing and Corinthian capitals
 - Decorations in limewash and distemper
-
- Winner of RICS London 2008 Craftsmanship in Conservation Award
 - Highly Commended in the Wood Awards 2008